Programme Description

This 1-year course takes learners through every aspect required to be a successful Golf Course Superintendent, one of the highest paid positions in the golf industry.

Performance Development Programme

Students improve their playing skills under guidance of a qualified BSI Golf Coach. Students receive 40 coaching sessions per year, regular evaluations and individual practice plans. The coaches use state of the art technology such as Trackman, Flight Scope and Coach Now to assist with the skills and technical learning.

Academic Component

Topics covered include:

- Grass species and plant identification
- Soil types
- Fertilising
- Golf course irrigation and drainage
- Mowing
- Pest control
- Equipment and maintenance
- Workshop safety
- Golf course design and construction
- Golf course management
- Putting green maintenance
- Maintaining bunkers
- Golf course marking and tournament preparation
- Budgeting
- Managing health and safety systems

Practical Learning

The learning process includes a large practical element to compliment the theory. Students will receive invaluable practical experience at one or more of our partner golf courses, typically two days per week or more at key maintenance periods of the year.

Schedule

In a 40 week programme (4 cycles of 10 weeks), students will need to complete a minimum of 1000 “practical hours”. This is achieved by working at least 2 full days a week on one of our partner golf courses and completing 6 hours of academic work a week (half of which will be supervised learning).

Although these are optional, we recommend that students also take the “playing” option, which includes our internal tournament schedule and membership at Royal Johannesburg and Kensington GC.

Who Should Apply?

Golfers who want to pursue a career in Greenkeeping, Golf Course Management or Golf Course Construction, whilst still improving their playing ability.
